LOCAL FLAVOR

- Jambalaya is a comforting and filling rice dish that originates from the French Quarter of New Orleans. Each region has slightly different variations that include a vast range of meats and seafood prepared with rice, vegetables and spices in the same pot.
- Gumbo is a Louisiana Creole stew that is thick and spicy, usually containing shellfish and sausage and served over rice.
- The 1984 Louisiana World Exposition was a World's Fair held in New Orleans, Louisiana. It was a bright, fun, whimsical and engaging exposition along the Mississippi River that harkened back to riverboat days and revitalized the warehouse section of the city. It would also open up the river along Riverwalk, where the International Pavilions were, for generations to come. The Convention Center for New Orleans, fifteen acres in size, was built and used for the Fair. It was known as the Great Hall and housed the Louisiana Pavilion.

DID YOU KNOW...?

- Popcorn explodes because each kernel has a perfect drop of water inside it. Your microwave quickly raises that water to the steaming point, and the pressure of the steam rips open the hull and inflates the starchy mush inside.
- Charles Feltman, a German-American Baker, invented the hot dog at Coney Island around 1867.
- Ripe cranberries will bounce like rubber balls.
- The average strawberry has about 200 seeds on it. Each seed that grows into a plant can produce about 24 large strawberries every year.
